"IN WREXHAM, WE RISE TOGETHER"

The Welsh language and culture are very important to Wrexham

WELCOME TO WREXHAM!

Wrexham was granted City status in 2022. However, Wrexham town remains at its heart. A vibrant and modern city, it is also steeped in history and remains true to its roots, with echoes of its industrial past still evident today.

Wrexham has plenty to offer visitors, whether you are visiting for a few hours, a few days or longer. Culture, heritage, music, arts and science, as well as local food and drink, all have their part to play in what makes the area so diverse.

Wrexham is also home to the world-famous Wrexham AFC, which calls the oldest international football stadium its home. Wrexham is currently bidding to be host city for the UK City of Culture 2029. This campaign will showcase our rich cultural tapestry, diverse communities and talent which enriches Wrexham's visitor offer. There are National Landscapes, historic landmarks and a UNESCO World Heritage Site.

Truly, there is something for everyone.

GEAR UP FOR ADVENTURE
Let your feet do the talking in Shropshire
Shropshire is one of England's least densely populated counties. It's a deeply rural part of the world. Encompassing verdant hills, ancient woodlands, windswept moorland and mysterious lakes, the scenery can be spectacular. A quarter of the county is covered by the Shropshire Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, much of which is just as beautiful as our national parks.
Pretty much the whole of Shropshire is fantastic for walking. The countryside is criss-crossed with nearly 3500 miles of footpaths, bridleways and byways, and there are also several long-distance walking routes to throw into the mix. The 200-mile-long Shropshire Way spreads in a figure of eight loop over the county. Some 28 miles of Offa's Dyke Path National Trail passes through Shropshire.
